General Comment

Keep our freedoms. Provide a conscience exemption for certain so called "preventive services" for women. This exemption should be offered not only to religious institutions such as churches but also hospitals & colleges with religious affiliations.

In fact, any group or employer should be able to exempt because of moral conscience.

It's a crime that this country can't spend its time and money on uplifting the beauty of life instead of destroying it.

Do the right thing. Allow those who morally oppose to take an exemption.
